Facility Diversion Rates

This provides a snapshot (August 2008) of the facility diversion rates at regional mixed C&D processing facilities. Waste Management and Allied Waste are under contract to King County to report, with documentation, their diversion rate information. CDL Recycle, Recovery 1, and Glacier Recycle self-report their monthly diversion information. Diversion rate information is provided to King County on a monthly basis and posted to the web site at www.Greentools.us search: Recycling Rates. Diversion rates for past months are also accessible via the website.

NOTE: The Recycling/Diversion Rate in the second column only applies to loads accepted for recycling/diversion. Ask for a receipt clearly stating that the load was accepted for recycling/diversion.

Setting Up A Job-Site Recycling Program

Recycling conserves resources and saves room in the landfill for the waste that really needs to go there.

Identify Recyclables

Asphalt, concrete, cardboard, new drywall, scrap metals and wood are easy to recycle in King County. Recycling options also exist for asphalt roofing, fluorescent lighting, carpet, and carpet padding, ceiling tiles, film plastic and others. Don't forget to set up recycling for beverage containers and paper from the job shack.

Choose a Recycling Method

There are three basic approaches to job-site recycling:

- ❖ Contract with a recycling hauler who accepts commingled C&D materials. This service allows contractors to put multiple recyclables such as wood, cardboard and metals in one container. The recycling company takes the materials to a sorting facility where the materials are separated for recycling. Materials not accepted in commingled loads will still need to be source-separated. Garbage must go in a separate container.
- ❖ Separate recyclables at the source for recycling. This method involves collecting recyclables in separate containers as they are generated. The recycling hauler takes the materials directly to a recycler or a transfer site. Materials not accepted in commingled recycling, such as ceiling-tile, must be source-separated for recycling.
- ❖ Self-haul your recyclables. Source-separate recyclables in piles or containers on-site and haul them yourself to local recyclers or transfer sites. You may be able to drop off commingled loads at a recycling company. Call companies listed in this directory to confirm.

Select A Recycler

Specify the following in an agreement with them if you choose a contract waste recycling hauler:

- ❖ Which materials will be recycled
- ❖ Requirement that weight or volume of recyclables be documented
- ❖ Requirement that material will go to a properly permitted facility
- ❖ Costs associated with the service (fees for container rental, hauling, recycling charges)
- ❖ Schedule for picking up containers
- ❖ How containers will be labeled

Involve Subcontractors

- ❖ Include language in sub-contractor agreements that they will recycle
- ❖ Discuss the recycling program at every safety meeting or other regular meetings

Monitor the Program

- ❖ Check dumpsters regularly (at least daily) to make sure material is getting separated properly

Determine Savings

- ❖ Calculate the cost savings from recycling versus disposal using documentation from your hauler

Insulation

Insulation comes in many different forms. The most common, fiberglass, consists of flexible fragments of spun or woven glass formed into batts though it is sometimes also blown. Cellulose insulation is also very common and usually consists of shredded newspaper mixed with a binder and fire retardent.

Another type of insulation, vermiculite insulation, is a pebble-like, pour-in product that is light-brown or gold in color. Vermiculite attic insulation sometimes contains asbestos fibers. Left undisturbed, vermiculite should not pose a risk. Homeowners should not disturb vermiculite attic insulation and should limit trips to the attic if this type of insulation is present.

No recycling options are know to exist at this time.
